

Statement on Acceptance and Implementation of the Universal Code of Conduct for Maltreatment in Sports (UCCMS)

Canlan Sports is proud to announce our acceptance and implementation of the Universal Code of Conduct for Maltreatment in Sports (UCCMS). This decision underscores our unwavering commitment to fostering a safe, respectful, and inclusive environment for all participants, including athletes, coaches, staff, and spectators.

The UCCMS serves as a comprehensive framework designed to prevent and address all forms of maltreatment in sports. By integrating these standards into our policies and procedures, we aim to:

- Promote Respect and Integrity: Ensuring that every individual is treated with dignity and respect, and that integrity is upheld in all aspects of our operations.
- Prevent Maltreatment: Implementing proactive measures to prevent incidents of abuse, harassment, and discrimination within our sports communities.
- Support Safe Reporting: Establishing clear and accessible channels for reporting concerns or incidents, ensuring confidentiality and protection for those who come forward.
- Ensure Accountability: Holding individuals and organizations accountable for their actions, promoting transparency, and fostering trust within our community.
- Educate and Train: Providing comprehensive education and training programs to all members of our organization to recognize, prevent, and respond to maltreatment.

We believe that every participant in our sports programs has the right to a safe and supportive environment. By adopting the UCCMS, Canlan Sports is taking a decisive step towards ensuring the well-being and protection of our community.

We encourage everyone to familiarize themselves with the principles and guidelines outlined in the UCCMS and to join us in our commitment to promoting a positive and safe sports culture.

Thank you for your continued support and dedication to making Canlan Sports a leader in safety and respect in the sports community.
